Teachers' Examinations and Summer School

Arrangements have been made whereby State examinations for local teachers will be held at the Norway High School building on June 27th, from 9 a. m. to 12, and from 1.30 to 4 p. m. It will be necessary for all teachers to hold State certificates, beginning with the next school year. A change has been made in the State Summer School for teachers.

The work is to be arranged to aid teachers in their efforts to raise the grade of their certificates. A four week term will be held each summer at the Graham Normal School. Teachers holding elementary grade certificates and having considerable experience may expect, after three or four terms attendance, to raise the grade of their certificates to that of the professional grade without further examination. Credit for each term's work will be recorded. The number of terms that a teacher will be required to spend in raising the grade of her certificate will depend upon the individual ability and progress shown.

The work will be restricted to forenoon sessions, leaving the afternoons free for study and recreation. A few evening lectures and entertainments will be provided. If you propose to attend this summer school, you should signify your intention by writing to Principal W. E. Russell of Gorham, requesting that a reservation of a room be made and in regard to expenses.

EAST PARIS.
N. P. Croteau works at Paris Hill for Wm. Kimball.

We hear that a family from Bethel are soon to move in the Ripley house. W. W. Maxim went to the funeral of his cousin, Charles Edwin Mayhew, who died in Auburn, Friday, May 8th.

C. H. Colby is still very poorly, but rides out on pleasant days.

Tent caterpillars are very numerous, but not so much so as those between Paris Hill and South Paris. They are also plentiful on the bushes by the roadside on the Stony Brook road. We shall have another "caterpillar year" soon if they are allowed to go on. It looks like slackness.

The Finland man, who bought Mrs. Cora Hardy's farm, has moved there. His wife and three children arrived here from Finland, last week.

Paint or Not.

Paint was so high the last few years the market was flooded with trash. What is trash?

It looks like paint and pretends to be paint, but isn't worth anything. It costs a painter's day's work to put on a gallon of paint, good or bad; and a painter's day's work is $3 or $4.

Add that to the price of a gallon. That is the cost of a gallon. Devoe is $5 or $6 a gallon; and trash a half-dollar less.

But Devoe is all paint and more too; you add oil to it; a gallon is 5 or 6 quarts of perfect paint for the painter's pot. But trash is three-quarters two-thirds or half paint; you pay a half-dollar less for nobody-knows-what-it-is.

10 gallons Devoe is enough for the average job; it takes 15 to 20 gallons of trash. And the wear same way. Unfortunately, they look alike when first put on.

DEVOE
F. P. Stone, Norway; Emery & Shaw Co., West Paris, and F. N. Wright, South Paris, sell it.

This Kidney Remedy

A Great Healer

For a number of years I was troubled with my kidneys, condition so serious that part of the time I was unable to work. Tried several remedies, also different physicians without relief. A sample of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was left at my house. I commenced to take it and continued it until I had taken several bottles and am now cured. Am sixty-two years of age and able to work every day. I attribute my cure to the use of your Swamp-Root.

My wife was also cured by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Symptoms were very serious, including hemorrhages, great pain and distress. I commenced giving her Swamp-Root and it was just as healing in her case. We can heartily recommend your Swamp-Root to all kidney sufferers.

Very truly yours,
H. C. GRIFFITH,

WEST FRYEBURG.
Farming people in this section have been too busy almost to draw a long breath and even yet there is a strong light on to protect the sprouting corn from the ravens and crows who scorn the abundant insect menu for the tender vegetable food of the corn fields.

Children's Day was observed, Sunday, June 6, at Union Hall in East Conway, N. H. Three schools, the school in East Conway, presided over by Harriet Woodard, that of South Chatham, taught by Fannie Hill and No. 8, West Fryeburg, under training of Mrs. Charles H. Andrews, united in this celebration which has assumed the importance of an annual event. Each school furnished its individual program for the entertainment of all those in attendance, and a large gathering from the three neighborhoods attested by their appreciation of the merit of those participating in the exercises. The children were regaled by appropriate refreshments, including ice cream. It goes without saying that the day was most enjoyable to all attending.

Sarah Barbara Hutchins of this section has taken the examination for entrance to Fryeburg and is pronounced qualified. Miss Hutchins is the only pupil graduated from No. 8 this year.

Friends here have received the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Hutchins and Mrs. Alice Parker Lesser at Brooklyn, N. Y., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana A. Weeks of South Chatham, N. H., were guests at Mrs. Weeks' former home at Dean A. Ballard's, Sunday.

Arthur Downing is at his summer home in South Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hill of the Boston Cooking School Magazine are at their summer home in charming South Chatham, N. H.

Wm. Dewing of New York City has opened his summer home in South Chatham.

HOW TO RENOVATE LAST YEAR'S GOWN.
The revival of the pettop skirt has brought about the use of four or five ruffles of graduated depth, the deepest beginning at the waist.

This fashion should instantly suggest to a woman what she can do with one of last winter's gowns that is in need of renovating. Lace or net or chiffon or tulle can be used for these ruffles. The one requirement is that they should be so draped and gathered that they steadily diminish toward the foot line.

As the entirely plain satin or velvet skirt is not in first fashion this winter any woman may be glad to know how she can use what she has.

It may not be an expensive proposition to buy lace or any other fabric sufficiently to supply these ruffles, but only the woman herself can tell whether the experiment is worth the price.

EXOTIC STUCCO.
How to Make the Plaster House Look at Home.

There is an exotic look about many stucco and plaster houses built in many parts of the world today, and it is because the plaster house is really a product of the tropics transplanted. When it is built in colder climates it lacks the environment which it was made to fit and therefore lacks something essential.

Take a plaster cottage on the bleak New England sea coast or a stucco cabin in a western desert or a plaster and stucco house in any of a hundred suburbs in temperate climates. They do not look as if they belonged where they are. And this is the reason:

In their native home, the tropics, they are covered with vines and hidden with shrubs a few months after they are built, and the comfortable covering which Mother Nature gives them soon cloaks their bareness. They immediately become a part of the landscape, just as frame houses merge with the trees about them. The stucco bungalows of California, covered with roses and flowering shrubs, look as if they had stood where they stand since the beginning of civilization.

So the thing for the owner of a stucco or plaster house to do is to plant quick growing vines and shrubs about it and so cloak it. Hardy evergreens banded at the corners will help make the house look comfortable in the winter. In the summer hollyhock, rambler roses, hollyhocks, wiggalia and other quick growing vines and shrubs and plants can be used to make the stucco house look better.

ETIQUETTE POINT.
How to Give the Popular Afternoon Tea.

Afternoon teas continue to be a great feature among the entertainments of the day. Fashion calls on a mother to introduce her daughter. Certain formalities are observed on a special occasion of the sort for the introduction of a debutante. An engraved card is used, having the name of the daughter beneath that of her mother, and the address. In the lower left hand corner of the card may be the words, "Fridays in January," two indicate other days during the winter for receiving more informally. Cards are about five inches long by three and a half wide. The usual style of engraving is script. According to recent fashion the form is:

Mrs. Archibald Robinson and Miss Edith Robinson on Tuesday, the First of December from four until seven o'clock at Seven East Seventy-third Street.

Cards for large teas or days at home are sent out two weeks in advance; small teas a week or so in advance. Invitations to teas are in the name of the hostess, not in the united names of husband and wife.

At a large tea or reception for a debutante music for dancing is a feature. An orchestra is in the hall or in a room set apart for dancing. The musicians may be screened off by palms.

How to Renovate Worn Sweaters.
When woolen sweaters may show on examination some dangerously thin places—round the pockets, beneath the arms, etc.—which may soon wear into a hole, procure some wool exactly like the coat, if possible, or the very nearest to match. Buy an ounce or two more than is required for the actual knitting of the coat, and then when renovations are necessary it is in readiness.

Knit a piece in the pattern of the coat, somewhat larger than the thin part, lay it on with the thin side to the wrong side of the garment, matching the pattern as you would a patch, and darn invisibly into position with the same kind of wool. As the thin parts wear through (if they do), draw all ends of wool through to the underside of patch and darn in.

A TENDER HEART.
A tender hearted and compassionate disposition, which inclines men to pity and to feel the misfortunes of others and which is even for its own sake incapable of involving any man in ruin and misery, is of all tempers of mind the most amiable, and though it seldom receives much honor, is worthy of the highest.

PLAYGROUNDS IN READING, PA.

Good Models For Other Communities.

STARTED TEN YEARS AGO.

Ten Thousand Children Enjoy the Benefits of These Institutions Every Year—Some of the Playgrounds Are Constructed Over Reservoirs.

Reading's system of playgrounds, from a small beginning, has grown into one of the most comprehensive and elaborate in the state of Pennsylvania, and becoming a model for other cities to follow, with the result that many delegations have visited Reading from elsewhere to get pointers on the subject.

The first playground was started ten years ago by the Olivet Presbyterian church in a vacant lot at the rear of the church edifice. Subsequently the civic division of the Woman's club took up the cause, and finally the Reading Playgrounds association was evolved.

The association now receives annual and city appropriations from the school board and city government for maintenance and equipment, and the half dozen grounds are fitted up with various devices for both rational recreation and useful occupation.

Two large plots of the Reading iron company's land are occupied by playgrounds. On one of them are the Olivet gardens, which the Olivet Boys' club has made a big success, combining play with the raising of vegetables and truck by neighborhood families. The Good Fellowship gardens are conducted along similar lines by the Woman's club.

Probably the most novel playgrounds in the country are those at the Penn street reservoirs, which are maintained by the Reading water board. These are immediately adjacent to the city park. The feature here is the fact that the playgrounds are actually over two of the city's largest reservoirs, which are roofed with concrete. This provides two skating rinks for roller skating in summer and ice skating in winter, when the roofs are flooded and allowed to freeze. In addition to the sports at the park rinks, there is a regular curriculum of teaching in basket making, raffa work and other lines, as at all the other playgrounds, by a staff of experts. Folk dancing on the green is also enjoyed.

For next season the Playgrounds association has planned more extensive than ever. To this end it has engaged Professor A. A. Harwick, physical instructor of the Reading public school system, to take charge of its supervisor. Ten thousand children share the benefits of Reading's playgrounds every year.

HOUSES AT COST FOR POOR.
Detroit Women Plan Sanitary Residences at Nominal Rentals.

Detroit's poor will have an opportunity of renting sanitary cottages at a nominal figure if the plans of the Twentieth Century club, an organization of prominent Detroit women, are successfully completed.

The cue for this work was taken from Mrs. Mary Mannerling Wadsworth, ex-actress, who, since her residence at Grasse Point, has built a number of simple cottages for the occupancy of working people and who demonstrated that this enterprise could be made a success. Making money was not the purpose of Mrs. Wadsworth or the occupants of the cottages are to pay on the basis of cost.

The cottages will be built of cement, containing four and six rooms and costing about $3,000 each.

Wink at Some Things.
When you have mastered the gentle art of winking, say Lord Beaconsfield, "you hold the key to success in your hands."

Every one's personality is made up of trivial failings and trivial talents. Foster the good qualities, in your friends and subordinates and wink at those failings so dear to their possessors. Not to see everything is a rule which will strengthen friendships and help you to get the best results from your fellow workers.

YOU CAN'T EAT APPETITE POOR.

Multitudes of people lose their appetite. Simply don't care for anything to eat. The dinner bell has no interest to them. They loathe their breakfast. They may nibble a little of this and a little of that, but they do not care for it.

Lunch has lost all of its charms, although they try to eat something. Dinner about the same.

There is something positively wrong, of course, but no disease that can be named. Just out of sorts. That is all.

It is in this kind of a condition that Peruna acts very beneficially. After using Peruna, interest in food is revived. Beginning with a teaspoonful of Peruna before each meal will generally quickly improve the appetite and help the digestion.

Thousands of people can testify to this. Liberated from a slavery that is almost unbearable. The slavery of having no interest in life. All used up. Yet one does not know exactly why. Take Peruna before each meal. Sticks will get blue again. Fields will look green once more and life will be pleasant. You will feel that you are good for something and the world is a good place to live in. Peruna will do it. Not as an artificial stimulant. Simply a tonic that stimulates appetite in a natural way.

These who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

BAKERS AND CATERERS.

PURE GEORGIAN COLONIAL STYLE.

Design 786, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This mansion was built in the state of Iowa. The design was carefully studied and worked out in the most minute detail. The general idea is typical of the old genuine colonial home, with central hall through the entire house, with living rooms placed each side. Sun parlor opening from the living room is modern. The floor plans present the merits of this design more accurately than the best word description. It makes a very complete residence of medium cost. The second story has four chambers, ample closet space and a sleeping porch. Full basement under entire house, 7 feet 6 inches high; first story, 9 feet 2 inches; second, 8 feet 4 inches, and third story, 8 feet. First story finished in red gum; with Circassian walnut veneered doors; second story white enamel on gumwood, with birch doors stained mahogany. Size, 40 feet wide over main part and 32 feet deep. Birch or maple floors throughout first and second stories. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $8,500.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans, "American Dwellings." It contains about 250 up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

REPAIRING A CRANK PIN.

Simple and Ingenious Method of Increasing Diameter.

A crank pin was found to be considerably out of true and to turn it up would necessitate the making of a new connecting rod and brass, so it was decided to build the piece up to fit the brasses in the old connecting rod. This was accomplished as follows: The crank pin was centered as accurately as possible in a lathe and a rounded end threading tool used to cut a groove spirally on the surface of the pin. The groove was not cut deep, and the feed was set for a large thread so that about one-thirty-second of an inch was left between turns.

One end of a piece of steel wire was then brazed to the pin and lightly wound around it in the spiral groove. The wire was of such size that it filled the groove and fitted snugly against the preceding turn. When the whole pin had been wound the wire was brazed, and the pin was then turned in a lathe to the proper diameter. When completed the surface of the pin was perfectly smooth, and it was almost impossible to detect that it had been wound with wire.—Popular Mechanics.

Brush For Acid Cleaning.

A good brush for applying acid to articles for soldering can be made of a piece of small copper pipe for the brush. To make the brush part take a piece of cardboard about one and one-quarter inches wide and wind several turns of No. 28 gauge copper wire around it, then remove the coil, insert about one-half inch of it in the pipe and flatten the latter to hold the wire. Clip the ends of the wire, and a brush will be had that ordinary acids will not affect. If only a short piece of pipe is available it can be used as a ferrule and a handle made of wire or wood.

A Shellac Cement.

As shellac is the basis of almost all cement, a good cement can be made by thickening shellac varnish with dry white lead. The two may be worked together on a piece of glass with a putty knife.

What a Scotsman Wears.

A Scottish correspondent, signing himself "Haggis," writes to us as follows: "Dear Sir—Please state in your column that a Scotsman wears a kilt, not kilts. Thus Harry Lauder went to amuse the king clad in a kilt, not in kilts."

We regret to say that we find ourselves unable to accede to our correspondent's request. Respect for truth compels us to state that a Scotsman almost invariably wears neither a kilt nor kilts, but trousers.—London Mail.

PURE GEORGIAN COLONIAL STYLE.

Design 786, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

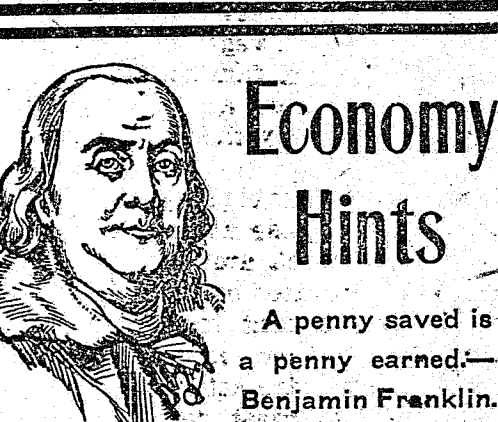

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This mansion was built in the state of Iowa. The design was carefully studied and worked out in the most minute detail. The general idea is typical of the old genuine colonial home, with central hall through the entire house, with living rooms placed each side. Sun parlor opening from the living room is modern. The floor plans present the merits of this design more accurately than the best word description. It makes a very complete residence of medium cost. The second story has four chambers, ample closet space and a sleeping porch. Full basement under entire house, 7 feet 6 inches high; first story, 9 feet 2 inches; second, 8 feet 4 inches, and third story, 8 feet. First story finished in red gum, with Circassian walnut veneered doors; second story white enamel on gumwood, with birch doors stained mahogany. Size, 40 feet wide over main part and 32 feet deep. Birch or maple floors throughout first and second stories. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $8,500.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans, "American Dwellings." It contains about 250 up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned—Benjamin Franklin.

How to Save Steps.
HEN she was dressed in the morning to go down to prepare her early breakfast she threw open her beds and windows and gathered up all pitchers, glasses or anything that had to go downstairs and took them with her. After starting her breakfast she went to the front of the house, pulled up shades, gathered up papers and scrap baskets and carried them back to the kitchen with her. Then, breakfast over, the dining room and kitchen were quickly set in order, the refrigerator and closets put to rights, dinner and luncheon plans made and the needs of the day decided upon. Then she started to the front of the house with the emptied scrap baskets and placed a chair at the foot of the stairs.

Everything that went upstairs was placed on that chair, and after the dusting was done the things were carried up. A chair was placed in the upper hall, and as the rooms were done up for the day everything that went down was placed on the chair. Next the lamps were all filled and put back in their brackets, range fire shut down and the furnace drafts also closed down, and then the little lady dressed and went to market. All this had been done, and it was only 10:30 o'clock. In one hour she was back, a half hour devoted to light mending and a half hour to getting her luncheon. At 1:30 o'clock she was free until dinner time.

All the heavy work was done on the two days that she had help, and on the other days her system worked perfectly, and the housework went without a jar, and not once did one ever hear a complaint of overwork or unhappiness. She had accumulated every convenience to work with and by using her head never took a step that did not count. A house where the work is kept right up to the mark every day is always in order and causes not half the work that slipshod methods make for the housekeeper.

Posted Him.
He (vainly)—See that sweet little girl in pink?—I was engaged to her the whole of last summer. Stranger (eagerly)—Very glad to hear it. I am the lawyer she's commissioned to sue you for breach of promise.

REPAIRING A CRANK PIN.

Simple and Ingenious Method of Increasing Diameter.

A crank pin was found to be considerably out of true and to turn it would necessitate the making of a new connecting rod and hence, so it was decided to build the piece up to fit the brasses in the old connecting rod. This was accomplished as follows: The crank pin was centered as accurately as possible in a lathe and a rounded end threading tool used to cut a groove spirally on the surface of the pin. The groove was not cut deep, and the feed was set for a large thread so that about one-third-second of an inch was left between turns.

One end of a piece of steel wire was then, brazed to the pin and tightly wound around it in the spiral groove. The wire was of such size that it filled the groove and fitted snugly against the preceding turn. When the whole pin had been wound the wire was brazed, and the pin was then turned in a lathe to the proper diameter. When completed the surface of the pin was perfectly smooth, and it was almost impossible to detect that it had been wound with wire.—Popular Mechanics.

Brush For Acid Cleaning.
A good brush for applying acid to articles for soldering can be made of a piece of small copper pipe for the handle and fine copper wire for the brush. To make the brush part take a piece of cardboard about one and one-quarter inches wide and wind several turns of No. 28 gauge copper wire around it, then remove the coil, insert about one-half inch of it in the pipe and flatten the latter to hold the wire. Clip the ends of the wire, and a brush will be had that ordinary acids will not affect. If only a short piece of pipe is available it can be used as a ferrule and a handle made of wire or wood.

A Shellac Cement.
As shellac is the basis of almost all cement, a good cement can be made by thickening shellac varnish with dry white lead. The two may be worked together on a piece of glass with a putty knife.

What a Scotsman Wears.
A Scottish correspondent, signing himself "Faggis," writes to us as follows: "Dear Sir—Please state in your column that a Scotsman wears a kilt, not kilts. Thus Harry Lauder went to amuse the king clad in a kilt, not in kilts."

We regret to say that we find ourselves unable to accede to our correspondent's request. Respect for truth compels us to state that a Scotsman almost invariably wears neither a kilt nor kilts, but trousers.—London Mail.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

"Always Does Good"

The established custom among New England folks is to always have in the house. Thus they prevent sickness, by relieving those minor disorders which lead to more serious ills.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken

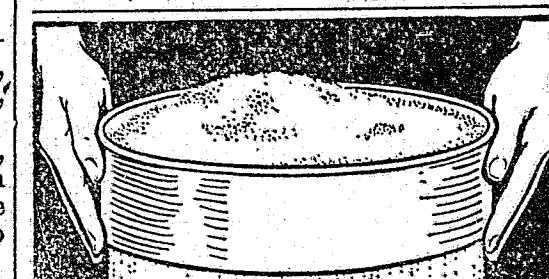

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poisons from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

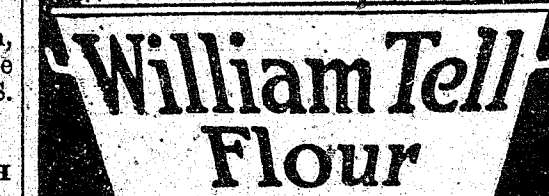

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst back-ache or overcome urinary disorders.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman." Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.
Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand. I gave up my work, and when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, it helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends." Mrs. ABRIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

Gen. Israel Putnam's Watch.

Alvin C. Doten of Paris and Bolster's Mills and now driver of the Harrier stage, shows us a bull's eye watch that is 165 or more years old and is said to have been owned by Israel Putnam before he left his plow to go to the Revolutionary struggle. This watch is supposed to have been carried by him during the war and come into the possession of one Sampson who moved from Concord, Mass., to Hartford, Me., after the close of the war.

Mr. Sampson's son, Nathan Sampson, of Hartford carried it in his life time and it fell to his son, Lewis Sampson, of that town who sold it to Alvin C. Doten for $16.00, and it is the son of this Mr. Doten who now owns it. Mr. Doten, Sr., fell dead Feb. 19, 1850, one day after the birth of the present Mr. Doten.

The watch is ticking off time with reasonable accuracy and it is driven by a "chain and barrel." It was cleaned by Boston watch maker, Sept. 12, 1749; and by B. B. Wood, 139 Washington street, Boston, May 24, 1774, and the name of Israel Putnam is subscribed thereon. Alvin Skinner, same city, fixed it Sept. 9, 1839, and Daniel C. Hall, Gray, Me., on Dec. 21, 1847, and this record shows ownership in Alvin Doten of Sumner, Me.

This watch has been loaned to several inquisitive school masters in the past 100 years. Among them is S. E. Newell of Paris Hill.

Patrick Murphy had just been initiated into the mysteries of the A. O. H. He was persuaded to join by his friend, Michael Casey, who, as a member, had attended to the filling out of his application, etc. At the first meeting some one made a motion that the lodge "cure four cuspids," this was seconded, and the matter being opened for remarks, Pat, remembering the kindness of his friend and thinking that this would be a good time to show his worth and interest in affairs, arose and addressed the chair: "Mr. Chairman, I am not familiar with this motion, but I nominate my friend, Mike Casey, as one of them cuspids."

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Hood's Sarsaparilla Will Surely Bring Relief—Don't Suffer.

Rheumatism, which perhaps causes more suffering than any other disease, depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain.

This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there, because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and through the blood on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates, and at the same time it improves the digestion.

Don't delay treatment until you are in worse condition. Get Hood's and begin taking it today.

Mountain Painter from Maine.

Under the above head "The International Studio" of New York prints the following of a Norway man and his art. A number of his pencil drawings illustrate this magazine and his work.

A solitary art student from childhood, entirely self-taught, George Lorenzo Noyes, has spent fifty years, all of his life in fact, in Norway. A deep love of the beauty, strength and harmony of nature influenced him from early youth to become an artist, in which pursuit he has been encouraged by his many friends in Norway, who are themselves artists, scientists or journalists.

In his constant search for both the subtle and grander expressions of light and shade, especially in the moldings and colors of skies, clouds, mountains, their valleys, slope sand summits, he has been a daily familiar figure, during country rambles or secluded paths, in the fields, meadows and woods; along the shore of some lake or the banks of some stream, or on the pastured open slopes of hills and mountains, drinking leisurely but deeply of the varied truths and beauties of these scenes to which he has been most fondly attached since childhood.

He has lived intimately with the mountains throughout all their most typical seasons and at all hours of the day; is at home with their many slopes, precipices, slides, valleys and ridges; has often bivouacked secret, artistic beauties, both in most intimate contact with them and at most varied distances. From these continuous associations he has developed his profound appreciation of the artistic beauties of the mountains and his lofty inspiration for his work.

The most fundamental expressions of nature are to him the most beautiful and impressive. Barren or scantily-clad mountain crests, jagged summits or boldly modeled slopes are his favorite compositions when accompanied by the most elementary and typical phenomena of seasons, long shadows, crepuscular glows, cloud forms, rising and enveloping vapors, snows, winds, intense cold and heat, and the natural unoverlaid foreground of naked ledge, weathered stumps or prostrate boles.

Mr. Noyes may be classed as a life-long investigator and student of the truest, completest and most artistic phenomena of nature. His miniature pencil drawings of mountains, of which we produce three, are typical of his life's work. He has regarded them heretofore as mere studies for his own private use and improvement, but he is now satisfied, and well may be, that they are of sufficient artistic merit to be shown to the public, and it is only now that anything from his pencil or brush has been withdrawn from privacy. Meanwhile, Mr. Noyes is engaged with oils and later on we may hope to see these grander mountain, lake and forest scenes of Maine and New Hampshire expressed upon canvas, with that interpretation which his pencil sketches so charmingly express.

THRIFT IS A NATURAL INBORN CHARACTER- ISTIC WITH SOME PEOPLE; IT IS AN ACQUIRED HABIT WITH OTHERS

If the majority of people realized that 97 per cent. of the business men meet reverses at the age of forty and are obliged to again rebuild their fortunes from the very foundation, the habit of thrift would gradually become more general. It would soon be regarded by the majority as a requisite of vital importance for a man early in life to establish a sinking fund and systematically lay aside for this purpose.

Why not provide against this by opening an account with this Bank? You can then deposit all money received and pay each bill by check. In this manner you will have a record of all receipts and expenditures and can establish a sinking fund to provide against reverses and old age.

We invite you to deposit your money, whether it be cash or checks, in this strong National Bank and start systematic saving. There is no expense to you in opening an account.
